RECALLS FOOT-RACE FRAUDS.

United States Court of Appeals Reverses Lockman Case.

A decision handed down by the United States Court of Appeals yesterday recalled the alleged race swindles that were per-petrated at Webb City, Mo., several years ago, for which Robert Boatright and others were subsequently indicted. These persons were charged with "inducing persons to go to Webb City to wager large sums sons were charged with "inducing persons to go to Webb City to wager large sums of money on the result of fraudulent foot races, the result of which had been predetermined and agreed upon."

Roger H. Williams, one of the principals, was arrested at Hot Springs. Ark., and while there in jall he was stabled to death by a negro prisoner. The case on which the Court of Appeals has just passed was that of Forest Lockman, appeliant, administrator for Williams, against George P. Land and Charles J. Becker of St. Louis, and was an appeal from an adjudication of bankruptcy Issued by the United States Dietrict Court of Colorado.

It was alleged in the original application for a bankruptcy that Williams had "conveyed, transferred and concealed a large amount of property with intent to defraud his creditors." The specific property and place of concealment were not methioned. The petition afterward was amended by stating that Williams had $50,000 in the National Bank of Arkansas, $12,000 in the National Bank of Memphis. Tenn., or in the hands of Ralph Davis. The defendants asked for time to amend their petition, which was denied, and Williams was adjudged bankrupt.

The appeal challenged this adjudication and the decision reversed the order of the lower court and remanded the case, with discretion to enter an order to the effect that the appellant may answer the amended petition within thirty days.

A decision also was handed down in the case of the Great Western Railway Company to J. J. Roddy, an engineer of the company who secured a verifiet for personal injuries. The railway company claimed error in the charge of the lower court. The original decision was affirmed.

MRS. MAYBRICK

Leaves the Convent at Cornwall Deposits Increased From $412, and Crosses Over Into France.

Will Not Return to America Until Her Testimony Is Required in Kentucky Land Suits.

Truro, Cornwall, England, July 20 .-Mrs. Florence Maybrick is free. She left here at 11:43 a. m. to-day on her way to erminated with the clang of doors, the last sound which remains in the ears of so many of her fellow-prisoners who had preceded her to liberty from the Aylesbury Prison, where she spent more than fourteen years of her life. It closed before the arched doorway of the white convent of the Sisterhood of Epiphany in this little wn, with the black-robed sisters softly uttering their good wishes and blessings

With two companions, Mrs. Maybrick entered the carriage of Miss Dulrymple, secretary of the sisterhood, and was driven rapidly to Stausteil, a small station fourteen miles away, where, after ex-changing good-bys with her companions, she boarded a train and started on her journey to France. She will not go to America until her presence there is considered imperatively necessary,

HISTORY OF CASE,

Mrs. Maybrick, who was Miss Florence Elizabeth Chandler, a member of a wellknown and presperous Southern family, was married July 27, 1881, in St. James's Church, Piecadilly, to James Maybrick of Liverpool. She was then 18 years old, Her husband was over 40 years of age.

In the spring of 1889 Mr. Maybrick became ill, and in a few days he died. His brothers investigated his death and charged Mrs. Maybrick with the murder of her husband. A long trial followed and a number of doctors swore that the deceased died of arsenteal poisoning. The defense proved that for twenty years Mr. Maybrick had been a confirmed user of arsentea and that he daily took doses large enough to have killed a dozen ordinary men. known and presperous Southern family, Mrs. Maybrick was eventually sentenced to death by the Judge. Sir Fitzjames Stephen, who spoke for two days in charging the jury. He said it was impossible for them to find her not guilty in the face of the medical evidence. The Judge died some time later in a madhouse.

From the time of Mrs. Maybrick's conviction her mother, the Baroness de Reques, was unremitting in her efforts in behalf of the prisoner. She succeeded in having the death sentence commuted to penal servitude for life, and finally has obtained the freedom of her daughter, to whose releases from prison she had devoted her life.

FOURTEEN YEARS IN PRISON. | COMPTROLLER MAKES REPORT

During Last Fiscal Year 463 National Banks Were Organized With Capital of $22,479,800.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Washington, July 20.-According to a report of the Comptroller of the Currency nade public to-day, during June forty three national banking associations wer organized, with total capital stock of $2, 136,000, of which twenty-five, with capital of $551,000, were with individual capi-tal of less than $50,000, and eighteen, with total capital of $1,475,000, with individual capital of $50,000 or over.

There were organized during the year ended June 30, 1904, 463 national banks, with authorized capital of $25,470,800, of which 308, with capital of $7,907,000, were of the smaller class, and 155, with capital of $14.512,800, of the larger Forty-three banks, with capital of $2,522,800, were con ersions of State banks; let with capital of $8,206,000, reorganizations of State or private banks, and 256, with capital of $11,750,000, primary organizations. At the close of business on June 20, 1303 the Authorized capital stock of the 5.006 national banking associations in existence was $7.4.76,86, the average capital being $150,94, as compared with an average of $144,245 on June 30, 1994, and $170,400 on March 14, 1990. Within the past twelve months reduc-tions of capital have been effected as fol-lows: By voluntary liquidations, $50,690,000; by failures, $1.785,000; by reductions of capital of banks in existence at the beginning of the year, $1,687,700.

COMPARISONS. Owing to the comparatively limited increase in deposits, from 1892 to 1895, comparisons with respect to the deposits in each class of banks are confined to the years 1892 and 1993.

During this period deposits in State banks increased from $48,000,000 to $1.792,000,000, or 176 per cent; the increase in deposits in savings banks was $1.057,000,000, or from $1.735,000,000 to $2.816,050,000, the rate of increase being @ per cent; private-bank deposits, amounting to 32 90,000 in or from $1.28,09.000 to $2.8.00.00. the rate of increase being 60 per cent, private-bank oeposits, amounting to $2.00.00 in 1852, increased to $22,000.000 in 1903, the increase being 43 per cent.

The greatest increase is shown in the deposits in loan and trust companies, namely, $1,177,000.00, or 251 per cent. or from $42,000.000 in 1852 to $1,520.000.000 in 1808.

The deposits in all banks other than national increased from $2.912.000.000 to $5,320.000.000 in 1700.

The deposits in all banks other than national hanks, as represented by their deposits, was from $1.78,200.000 in 1892 to $1,200.000. or $3 per cent.

The deposits in national banks in the island possessions aggregated $20.500, and in other banks, $22.443,792, which makes the total deposits in the United States and Island possessions $8,533,833,564.
